Client fee and payment options

Before providing advice, we will agree the fees and payment options with you. The fee you pay will depend on the complexity of your circumstances and the services you require.

Our payment options may include a fee for service, commissions, or a combination of both.

Fee for service: Fee for service is based on the service we provide. This fee can be determined by:

- An hourly rate.
- A fixed dollar amount.
- A percentage of funds invested (excluding borrowed funds).
- A combination of these methods.

We can invoice you directly for our fee for service. Alternatively, some products allow an adviser service fee to be deducted from the investment balance.

Commissions: Some product providers pay commissions to RI Advice Group. The amount of commissions received will depend upon the type of product and the amount invested or premium paid.

If we receive commissions as a result of recommending a product to you, we may reduce our fee for service.

In the event that we reduce our fee for service in this manner and you decide not to proceed with our recommendations, or if your insurance policies are cancelled within the first 2 years of acceptance (in which case the insurer claims back all or some of the commission paid to us), we may invoice you directly for the cost of our service.

At its heart, good financial advice is all about making the most of life – helping you to decide what you want to achieve and setting the financial strategies to help you do it.

Everyone has different goals in life, but for most of us, finances play an important role in reaching them. That’s where we can help.

Since 1979 advisers with RI Advice Group (formerly RetireInvest) have helped thousands of Australians to create, grow and protect their wealth. Your adviser will provide expert advice and reliable service to help manage your finances.

“ Good financial advice is all about making the most of life...”

Financial Services Guide

This is a guide to the services we offer, the payments we receive to provide them and what to do if you have a complaint. It’s designed to help you decide whether you want to use our services.

Please take the time to read it carefully. Sound financial advice is based on open and honest communication. Understanding our services and our fees is the cornerstone of this communication. It’s also important that you know who is providing your services.

If there’s anything you don’t understand, or have questions about, please talk to your adviser, or contact us on 1800 738 473.

This guide should also be accompanied by an Adviser Profile which tells you about your adviser’s skills, qualifications and the services they are authorised to provide.

How we can help

As you go through life, your priorities or perspectives change, but one thing remains constant – managing your finances well will help you get what you want from life. Your adviser can guide you by:

- helping you identify your personal goals, such as an early retirement, travelling or building funds for your children's education
- developing strategies for saving, investing to meet your goals, and contingency plans to protect you against life's hazards along the way
- keeping you on track by regularly reviewing your direction and making adjustments as required.

Financial peace of mind

When women seek financial advice they generally do so because they are focused on the emotional benefit of peace of mind, value asset protection, a desire for financial security. Men tend to be more focused on setting and achieving goals and wealth creation.¹ Whatever your goal is for seeking financial advice, we can help.

Keeping it clear – it's all in writing

When your adviser provides you with personal financial advice for the first time, you will be provided with a Statement of Advice (SoA). The SoA details your personal advice, along with the basis for the advice.

If you are given additional advice at a later time, you may be given a further SoA or Record of Advice (RoA).

An RoA can only be used to provide advice if there has been no material change to your circumstances or strategy since your previous SoA. Your adviser may provide you with a RoA document or the advice may be provided verbally. If you are given verbal advice, your adviser will document the discussion and a copy of this record can be made available to you on request. Copies of any previously supplied advice documents are available from your adviser.

If your adviser recommends the purchase of a financial product (other than ASX-listed securities) you will be given a Product Disclosure Statement containing information about that product. We encourage you to read it and ask your adviser any questions you may have.

Sometimes you may wish to make changes to your investments without receiving advice. In these cases, we can take your instructions by telephone, fax, email or in person and arrange for the transaction to be completed, without providing personal advice. Once the transaction has been completed, we will provide a Statement of Transaction letter which confirms your instructions, informs you that no advice has been provided, and discloses any fees and charges payable by you and any benefits we may receive.

We will clarify and agree all fees and payments with you before providing our advice and services. The actual costs will be shown in our written advice to you. If we provide a transaction without advice, the costs will be shown in your Statement of Transaction letter.

Keeping your plans on track

As your circumstances change over time, we recommend that your adviser regularly reviews both your strategy and your situation to ensure recommendations remain current and appropriate to your changing circumstances.

Our review service can include varying levels of advice, review, contact and information. Your adviser will discuss and agree your specific service requirements when providing your initial advice.

“ Our focus is on being open and transparent – we want you to feel empowered to make sound decisions about your financial future....”

Keeping it clear – it's all in writing

Approved Products List

RI Advice Group maintains an Approved Products List (APL) made up of products selected by IOOF's experienced research team. This means the products your financial adviser recommends have been thoroughly researched.

The products on the APL include those offered by our related companies, including Australian Executor Trustees Limited, IOOF Investment Management Limited, IOOF Investment Services Ltd, IOOF Ltd and Managed Portfolio Services Limited.

Our related companies also include OnePath Funds Management Limited, OnePath Custodians Pty Limited and Oasis Funds Management Limited which IOOF purchased from ANZ in 2020. As part of the acquisition, our APL includes certain ANZ banking products and life insurance products issued by OnePath Life Limited provided those products are suitable for our clients' needs and providing they comply with our legal obligations.

Our related companies are the registrable superannuation entity licensee, responsible entity, operator or investment manager of financial products or services we may recommend. They will receive fees and benefits as disclosed in the relevant disclosure document if you purchase the product or use the service.

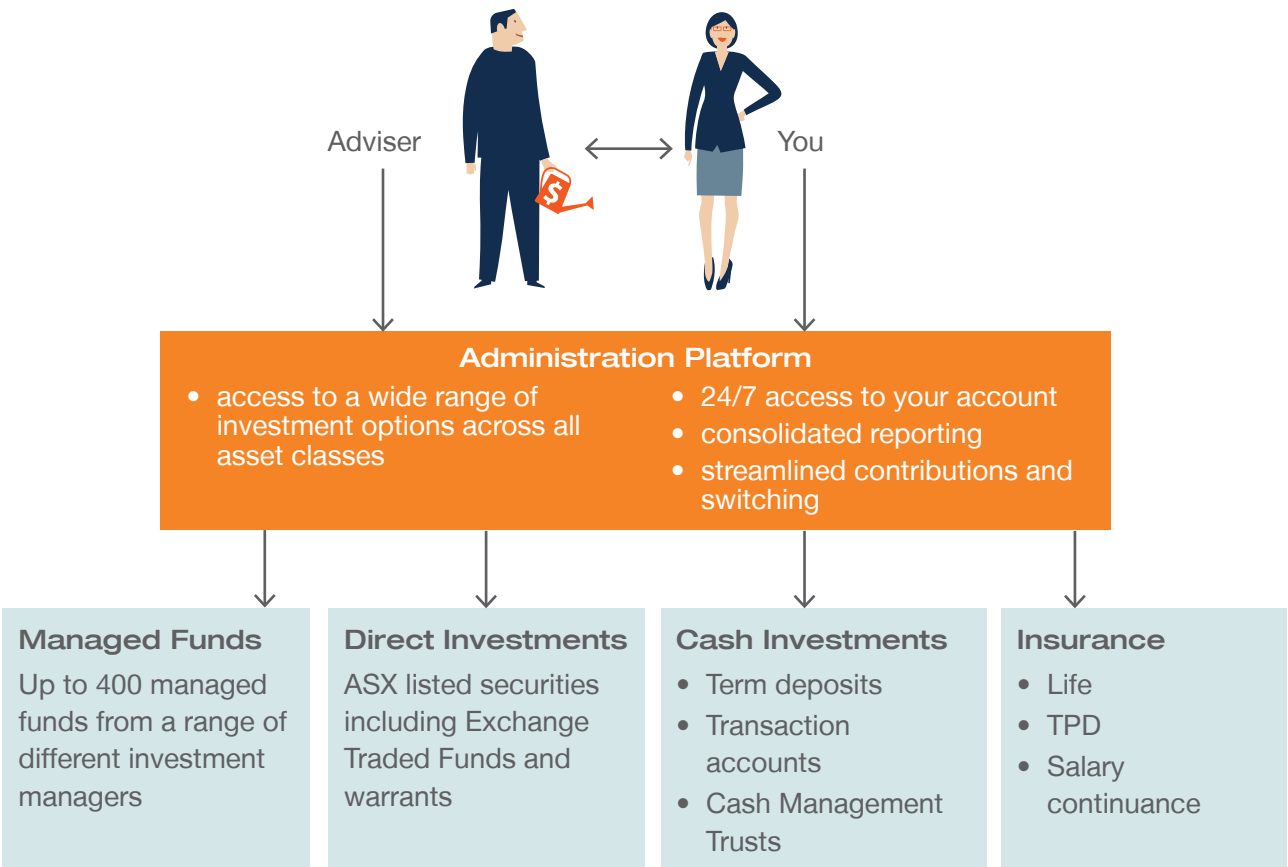

In some circumstances, your financial adviser can also recommend products that are not on our APL. When deciding what products to recommend, your adviser will consider your personal objectives, needs and circumstances and will only recommend products to you if they are in your best interests.

Administration

To administer your investments, your adviser may recommend using an administration platform. Through the platform you can access a broad range of investment options on the Approved Product List. This allows you to access a diversified range of investments from a number of different investment managers.

An administration platform can considerably reduce your paperwork. Instead of having to complete individual paperwork for each investment you only have to complete one set of paperwork for the platform. You'll also receive consolidated statements and tax reporting that combine all the investments in your portfolio. Administration platforms also offer online access, making it easier to see the overall picture of your investment portfolio at any time.

Keeping it clear – it's all in writing

Note: Investment and insurance options available may differ by administration platform.

How we are paid

You may be charged fees by companies associated with RI Advice Group for products recommended by your adviser. For investment products, these may include initial or ongoing fees including entry fees, management fees, account keeping fees, exit fees and any other fees specified in the product disclosure statement. For insurance products, these may include insurance premiums and other fees as specified in the product disclosure statement.

You may choose to pay fees directly to RI Advice Group or, where possible, they may be deducted from your product. As the licensee, RI Advice Group collects any advice fees and commissions and pays 100% of these fees and commissions to your adviser's practice. The Adviser Profile explains how your adviser is paid.

We're committed to a fair, open and honest fee structure for the advice and services we provide.

Your adviser will explain, and agree with you, any fees and payment options before providing advice and services to you. The costs of our advice and services may include charges for preparing and implementing our initial advice, and may also include charges for our review service.

How you are charged for advice

The cost will depend upon the nature of the service provided. There are various ways that you may pay us for the services, including:

- fee for service: where you pay a fee for the services that we provide
- commission: paid by product and service providers in the form of initial (up-front) and/or ongoing (trail) commission
- a combination of both.

Fee for service

Your adviser may charge you fees for services which may include:

- Statement of advice preparation fee - depends on the nature and complexity of the advice being provided.
- Adviser services fee - may be a flat fee or an amount based on a percentage of investment portfolio.
- Ad hoc advice fee - if you do not enter into a Client Service Agreement with us, your adviser may charge you for ad hoc advice.
- Execution only advice fee - you may be charged a fee if you instruct your adviser to buy or sell specific financial products on your behalf.

All fees will be disclosed in the written advice provided to you.

How we are paid

Commissions

We may be paid upfront and ongoing commissions for products we recommend to you. Commissions are paid to us by the relevant product provider and will be disclosed in our written advice to you.

For insurance products, commissions are based on a percentage of your premium. On all commission arrangements where the commission in the first year is greater than that payable in later years, the maximum upfront (year 1) commission is 66% and the maximum ongoing (years 2+) commission is 22% (inclusive of GST).

Where upfront and ongoing commission are the same, there is no legislated maximum however product providers generally pay up to 33%.

For insurance products purchased prior to 1 January 2018, we may continue to be paid commissions in the same manner as what would have previously been advised to you at the time of obtaining the product(s).

Your adviser may reduce their fee for service if they receive commissions as a result of recommending a product to you. If this occurs, and you decide not to proceed with your adviser's recommendations, or if your insurance policies are cancelled within two years of acceptance (in which case the insurer claims back all or some of the commissions paid), your adviser may invoice you directly for the cost of their service.

From 1 July 2013, commissions were banned on new investment and superannuation products. In certain cases, for products purchased before 1 July 2013, we may continue to be paid initial commissions of up to 5.12% of amounts invested and ongoing commissions of up to 1.1% of the account balance.

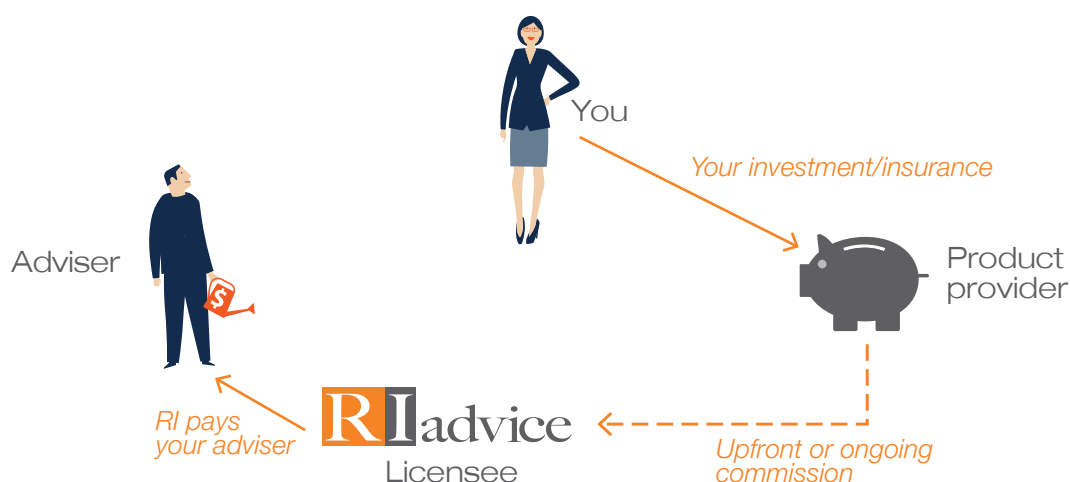

From 1 January 2021, these grandfathering provisions cease so that all commissions on investment and superannuation products are no longer payable.

Other payments

The following payments that we may receive are not an additional cost to you. Any other arrangements you need to be aware of will be set out in the Adviser Profile attached to this document. Arrangements that are relevant to the advice being provided to you will also be disclosed in your written advice.

Product provider partnership payments

Until 31 December 2020, RI Advice Group may receive partnership payments from some investment product and service providers based on the total volume of funds invested or placed through the relevant provider's administration platforms prior to 1 July 2013. Your adviser's practice may be paid 40% of partnership payments paid by OnePath to RI Advice Group. The practice owner may then pass some of the benefit to your adviser.

How we are paid

Example: If a practice invests $1,000,000 with OnePath and generates partnership payments of $2,000 ($0.20\% \times $1,000,000$) it may receive $800 ($40\% \times $2,000$). The balance of $1,200 is retained by RI Advice Group.

RI Advice Group may also receive partnership payments from OnePath Life Limited and other insurance partners of up to 10% of eligible annual premiums received for policies placed with OnePath Life Limited and other insurance partners prior to 1 January 2018. The percentage will depend on factors such as the volume of new business (prior to 1 January 2018 only) and the rate of clients terminating their policies. RI Advice Group retains 100% of the insurance partnership payments. From 1 January 2021, these grandfathering provisions cease so that volume based payments no longer apply.

Product and service provider sponsorship payments

RI Advice Group may receive sponsorship payments from product and service providers to fund technical and professional development training for our advisers.

Benefits through product providers

Our practice owners or advisers may apply for and qualify to receive commercial terms on a range of banking products and services such as interest rates and limited recourse terms.

Distribution fees

Related companies of RI Advice Group may receive fees for acting as the distributor of financial products which your adviser may recommend. Any fee is paid by the product issuer or administrator of the product out of its own funds and it is not an additional cost to you. Neither your adviser nor RI Advice Group receive any of these fees.

Advisory fees

Product providers may pay advisory fees to RI Advice or an investment management entity associated with RI Advice. This fee is for the provision of portfolio management advisory services where RI Advice model portfolios are utilised via managed accounts or separately managed accounts.

In the event of this occurring, the fee is calculated as a percentage, likely to be up to 0.15% of the managed account or separately managed account portfolio balance. Your adviser will not receive any of this fee.

Referral payments

Your adviser may have referral relationships with third parties. These third parties may include accountants, mortgage brokers, general insurance brokers, solicitors, real estate agents and other third parties who specialise in a specific field.

If you are referred to your adviser by one of these third parties, that third party may receive a referral fee, commission or non-monetary benefit. These referral fees can vary and may be up to 40% of revenue received or an equivalent or lesser value non-monetary benefit. Advisers can change their referral relationships over time and, as such, the referral fee ranges may also vary over time.

From time to time we may recommend you seek advice from other service or product providers who we believe will act in your best interest. Where you are referred to a third party (including to other financial advisers) by your adviser, your adviser does not receive any payment for that referral. We also do not approve or endorse their advice. You must assess the merits of their advice in the light of your own circumstances and objectives.

Associated businesses

Your adviser may have associations with other related businesses, such as an accountancy firm.

Other payments

We keep a full register of any benefits received by advisers of between $100 and $300 in value. In addition, RI Advice Group keeps a register of any other non-monetary benefits your adviser may receive in relation to education, training, technology support or software that is relevant to the provision of financial advice. If you would like a copy of either register, please ask your adviser and one will be made available to you.
